For Teachers

Caring is a Current Event! (4th—12th grade)

Though they may not find it on the front page, students can find examples of kind and caring actions taking place everyday in their communities; from fundraisers for families in need to everyday acts of heroism. Challenge students to find examples in local news sources (print or online), then write a summary and a personal reflection on the story they found. For Parents

Feel free to copy and paste the following excerpt to share with parents...

Caring is being kind, helpful and generous to everyone. Caring people are not selfish; they are considerate and always think about how their conduct affects others. They have compassion and empathy; they care how others feel and they are charitable and forgiving. They do good deeds without thought of reward.

You are modeling and teaching caring behavior for your child when you: Live by the Golden Rule: treat others the way you want them to treat you. Think how every decision, word or action will impact others. Show you care about others through kindness and compassion.
